Wedding Day Emergency Kit: A Bride's Best Friend

Wedding planning is no joke! No matter how prepared you are, something unexpected will pop up. But don't stress—that's where your emergency kit comes in! Think of it as your wedding day insurance. After 13 years of photographing weddings, I've seen brides need these exact items. You don't have to pack everything, but trust me, you'll be glad you have the essentials!

💡 Pro Tip: Keep it light! You don't need a suitcase—just a small bag with the must-haves. You can grab most of these at Target, Walmart, a local pharmacy, or let Amazon do the heavy lifting. Click below to download your shopping list and check out the Amazon links for quick and easy ordering.

🔥 Friendly Reminder: At the end of the day, you're marrying your best friend! If something small goes sideways, let it go—this day is about love, not perfection.

Brides, this kit is a game-changer, but it's also an amazing job for your maid of honor (if that's you, kudos for being the ultimate BFF)! Plus, it doubles as a honeymoon emergency kit—so you're covered beyond the wedding.

✨ Bonus Tip: Share this list with your bridesmaids and split up the shopping. Teamwork = less stress!

All of these products are ones I've personally used or my brides swear by.
